(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) ASHINGTON, October 8-Despite the most emphatic denials from state department officials here and from the foreign office in strength that there is a danger of ,a Rerlin that there is substance in the collapse of the whole Austrian section published report that Ambassador Ger. of the Central Powers' campaign. published report that Ambassador Gerpublished report that Ambassador Ger. Heretefore Germany has been ard is returning from Berlin with strengthening the Austrian lines with authority to request President Wilson to offer his good offices for peace, the report will not down, and in very many quarters there is a disposition to put sives to withstand, is now becoming the official denials down as diplomatic refusals to admit the truth.

The dramatic appearance of a German naval submarine at Newport yesterday morning, just on the eve of the scheduled visit Count von Bernstorff is to pay to President Wilson at Shadow Lawn tomorrow, adds color to the circumstantial chain of events and strengthens the belief of many that Germany is actually on the eve of ask ing for terms. German Denials Strong Yesterday von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, reiterated his denial the Gerard peace report and declared that the suggestion of Germany acknowledging defeat in any measure was an absurdity.

The state department officials yester day attempted to put an end to the peace reports by officially disclaiming any knowledge of Ambassador Gerard's mission, if he has any, and expressing their belief that he has no mission whatever, lils trip being one son today gave reasons why he thinks of vacation pleasure sterely. The state the independent Progressive voters department's view of Gerard's trip and should cast their ballots for the Demothe reports in connection with it is summed up in the following, given out officially:

"We have no reason to believe that there is anything at all in the published report that Ambassador Gerard is coming on behalf of the Kaiser to see the President, while we have every reason to believe that there is nothing whatever in the report."

Without Foundation

From Berlin also comes an authoritative denial of the New York Post's story. "Authoritatively and absolutely without foundation," say the lutely without foundation," say the Berlin officials concerning the peace re-"There is no truth whatever in the statement that Mr. Gerard bears an appeal from the Kaiser concerning any phase of the war or any effort on the part of Germany to conclude the war,' says Berlin,

Yet, in the face of these positive deninks, the rumor that the mission of Ambassafor Gerard is as stated and that there is official confirmation of it here continues to be circulated widely in dislomatic circles and is being discussed as a serious possibility.

Apparently nothing will wholly down the rumers except the arrival of Ambassador Gerard and his denial of the supposed mission.

Thousands of the more than 36,000 spectators left the field convinced that the home team had the scalps of the Dodgers dangling from their belts. This assumption proved correct. But that is not the only reason why they left. The Brooklyn visitors had played such a ragged game in spots, their fielding had proved so uncertain and their heavy hitters such a dismal failure that it would have required a soothsnyer to predict that the ninth juning would be any thing more than a repetition of the innings that had gone before. Large Teutonic Submersible Puts Into Rhode Island Port, Sends Letter To German Ambassader At Washington and Sails

Warships Patroling Sea In Neighborhood of Nantucket Shoals For Clean Getaway

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

N EWPORT, Rhode Island, October 8—Culling for the 8-Culling for the announced purpose of mailing a letter to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, a German naval submarine, the U-53, arrived off this port yester-day afternoon, sailing again before evening, having spent less than three bours in American waters.

The vessel was one of the regular submersibles of the German may, by ing a naval flag and having a quickfire gun mounted upon her deck.

Permission to board the vessel was denied everyone, with the exception of a representative of the Associated Press, who paid the commander of the submarine a short visit and obtained from him a brief statement of the reaon for the arrival of the craft on this side of the Atlantic.

Came To Mail Letter

"I bave been sent here simply to mail a letter to Count von Bernstorff, our ambassador," said Lieut Hana Rose, the submarine corumander, Handing the letter to the correspondent, Com-mander Rose said: "Please forward this letter to the count and report our arrival to him. He will be pleased to receive the news."

The commander's face was gray when he was told that the merchan submarine Bremen, long expected, had failed to arrive and that there was no news whatever as to the fate of the craft. He refused to speculate as to the reports that the British patrollers had captured the blockade runner. May Never Reach Home

When asked when he expected to reach home with the U-53, he said: We may never reach home at all." The U.53 is now safe at sen, however, having run the blockade of the British and French patrollers of the steamer lanes in the vicinity of Nanfucket Shonla Lightship, according to wireless messages exchanged between warships and picked ashore. These messages announced that the submarine had slipped through the cordon.

There is much speculation here as to the reason for the visit of this craft, and many are inclined to see a connection between the arrival of the subminrine as a special mail boat for Count von Bernstorff and the report that Am-hassador Gerard is on his way to the nited States from Berlin with a re-" from the Kniser to the President take the preliminary steps so bring
